YISRAELITES VS. THE 'BLACK' CHURCH

Yashah, a servant of YAH our Father and Yah'shua our Redeemer, to the Elders in Christ, Shal'm.

Brethren, when it comes to the subject of how we as the Hebrew Yisraelite-aware in Christ should relate to our supposed "African American" brothers who use the terminology of the 'black' church, the controversy, along with the confusion, rages on. But despite the finger-pointing and endless debates, the truth still marches on as well. And surely, a weed that grows wild and unchecked in the vineyard ultimately becomes a real and present danger to the fruitful vine.

Behold, Yisrael: the source of division between the Hebrew Yisraelite-aware and our Hellenized "African American" brothers must finally be rooted out, and exposed to the light of truth.

To begin with, the fact that those of us who are Yisraelite-aware have been granted the revelation of our true identity in no way automatically suggests spiritual superiority over the unaware. We would all be wise to remember that we were in full possession of the knowledge of self – we were dwelling in our own land, speaking our own language and living our own lifestyle – when the Roman legions sacked Jerusalem and leveled our Temple, slaughtering over one million of us; with most of the rest of us fleeing into Pella, Egypt and Ethiopia for our very lives. SÉLAH.

In the words of Paul the apostle, "I say the truth in Mashiach, I lie not, my conscience also bearing me witness in the Holy Spirit, that I have great heaviness and continual sorrow in my heart. For I could wish that myself were accursed from Christ for my brethren, my kinsmen according to the flesh...” (Romans 9:1-3).

The vexation of spirit caused by endless strife of words is an everyday fact of life. And this principle holds true in even greater measure when it comes to reasoning in the word and doctrine among warring brothers. The division, cynicism, and in many instances outright hostility existing between what are in truth two factions of the same family, is tragic. And while this subject is highly volatile, as with every crisis under heaven, it does have a basic set of underlying causes, easy to be understood.

Brethren, in my judgment, the first fundamental cause of this division among us is the often over-emphasized matter of language. In a simple equation: the snare of dialects = the curse of confusion.

Now the idea of a man rejecting his brother because he uses the words God and Christ, or YAH and Yah’shua and so on, is short-sighted and distracting – a “straining at gnats.” For example, the word ‘Christ’ is nothing more than the English transliteration of the Greek word ‘Christos,’ which means ‘an anointed one.’ So then “Christ-ian” or ‘Christian’ simply means one who is anointed, or ‘in the anointed One.’ That is to say, ‘Christian’ is just another word to describe Ha Mashiach and His anointed ones. And likewise, YAH and Yahushua, etc. are legitimate translations, and perfectly acceptable pronunciations.

And yet there are those among us who insist that the term Christian represents the religion of our enemies; when for example, the apostle Peter accepted the word, saying, “...if any man suffer as a Christian, let him not be ashamed; but let him glorify YAH on this behalf.” (1 Kefa-Peter 4:16).

Now, we know Peter was not writing in ‘Koine’ – the “Greek Ebonics” of the day – when he wrote those words (the apostle Paul used it when addressing the Greeks). But the word ‘Christian’ is clearly in keeping with a true-on translation from Greek to English. On the other hand, there are those among our Yisraelite-unaware brothers who immediately categorize anyone who uses Yahushua, Yahusha, Yah’shua, Yahawashi and so on, as not knowing the Messiah at all, but as being a part of a ‘cult’ or ‘hate-group.’ Whew...

The truth of the matter is, the words God, Christ, etc., were coined as a result of the Gentiles being exposed to Hebrew culture and faith to begin with! While it is obviously preferable not to refer to a brother Juan as “brother John,” one should not be ex-communicated from a congregation on that basis alone! And likewise, the use of Hebrew or “Heblish” as an outward sign of reclaiming one’s lost heritage and identifying with the roots of the faith is no automatic indication of anything other than just that.

When we fall into the snare of warring languages, we lose our ability to distinguish the truly sacred from the truly profane – a real deal-breaker when it comes to our ultimate salvation. With the all-out assaults our enemies are leveling against us, shall we continue to divide over etymology? Brethren, with all the endless strife and the evil surmising that follows, our Father is not pleased...

Now the idea of questioning a man’s standing in the Kingdom based upon the teaching that Mashiach’s name must be pronounced Yahushua, Yahshua, Yahawashi, etc. is like suggesting that if you say ‘Loes-ahng’-eles’ and I say ‘Lahs-anng’-elis,’ it somehow shows that I am more of an authority on the city of Los Angeles than you are. Let us no longer err, beloved brethren! It is written, “YAH is love” – not YAH is language. And as it is also written, “My little children, let us not love in word, neither in tongue; but in deed and in truth.” (1 Yakhanan/John 3:18). SÉLAH.

The second basic cause for our disunity is cultural pride.

Again, there are Yisraelites who revel in their knowledge of Hebrew, however limited, and then strive over which version must be used, whether ancient or modern, while they themselves are fluent in neither of the four current versions. And again, the Word says Elohim is love and not language. And then there are those among us who glory in the Law of Mosheh, and zealously seek to impose them upon the unaware, while they themselves are yet under its curse. In reality, such men are guilty of lawlessness just like the Hellenized brothers they seek to condemn; and manifest only envy, strife and confusion in the flesh, rather than love, joy and peace in the Spirit.

For example, some among us have even insisted that the wearing of certain special garments unique to their camps or congregations is a mandatory requirement for citizenship in the nation – and they wear this religious regalia with great cultural pride. Is this not the same worldly tendency the rebellious ancient Pharisees were given to, that ultimately led to rejection of her Messiah and expulsion from the promised land? Christ put it this way: “But all their works they do to be seen of men; they make broad their phylacteries and enlarge the borders of their garments...” (Matt. 23:5).

Brethren, this cultural arrogance and hypocrisy toward the ‘black’ church ought not to be. And in truth, the garments that are most critical among the faithful remnant in Christ at this hour are robes of righteousness – being clothed with humility, and putting on the garments of praise! Let us no longer persecute and vilify our Yisraelite-unaware brethren. But rather, let us earnestly pray for them, that they may be granted the restoration of their true Biblical heritage as well – remembering also that most among our ranks were in times past, walking in ignorance of our true identity and destiny in like manner. SÉLAH.

Finally, my brethren, we as the faithful remnant of Hebrew Yisraelites in Christ must once and for all, put away the formulating of doctrine and interpreting of scripture as a reaction to the lies and heresies of our enemies! We must preach, teach and confirm the word of YAHUWAH based solely upon that which is written, and that which is uttered and confirmed under the inspiration of Ruakh Ha Qodesh. And we must take back all that our enemies have stolen from us, including the very terminology of scripture – even in their own languages!

For example, the word ‘Catholic’ simply means universal. And again, ‘Christian’ simply means ‘an anointed one,’ and the word ‘church’ simply means “a called-out political body.”

Be not deceived, Messianic Yisraelites. In the sight of Abba YAH, the faithful remnant consists not only of the Messianic Yisraelite-aware, but the true disciples of Mashiach among the unaware as well! Together, we are the lost/found Kingdoms of Yahudah and Yisrael in Christ. And surely the hour has come for the faithful remnant from both factions of Hebrews to come together in love, peace and Kingdom order. Even so, Amen.

My beloved brethren, let the whole Kingdom Commonwealth – the faithful remnant out of every system – behold our reconciliation and rejoice; and let them join themselves to the united Royal Priesthood of Yisrael unto an authentic, uncompromised and unprecedented unity of the faith.

May the Grace, Mercy and Everlasting Shal’m of YAH continually abide with you all. ECHAD!
